"How does this noted healer, who cures his patients by touching them, differ from a regular physician?"

"Why, he touches them before he cures them."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The proof-reader on a small middle western daily was a woman of great precision and extreme propriety. One day a reporter succeeded in getting into type an item about "Willie Brown, the boy who was burned in the West End by a live wire."

On the following day the reported found on his desk a frigid note asking, "Which is the west end of a boy?"

It took only an instant to reply—"The end the son sets on, of course."

—Ladies' Home Journal.

Shopman—The fresh herrings are very nice this morning, m'm.

Lady—Er—have they roes.

Shopman—Well, m'm, all fish is dearer at this season!—Punch.

Mrs. B—"That nurse-girl is sensible; she won't allow any one to kiss the baby while she's near."

Mr. B—"No one would want to while she was near."—Pathfinder.

Howell—"Edison says that we sleep too much."

Powell—"Well, it isn't his fault; he has invented enough things to keep us awake."—Life.

"Well," her friend said, "he seems to be able to make an honest living."

"Yes," she replied, but heaven's! who wants to marry a man of that kind nowadays?"—Chicago Record-Herald.
